CHPS WEEKLY

District News for the week ending March 24, 2017

New Season, New Resources, New Knowledge

As we always work to improve in every way in the Cherry Hill Public Schools, we remember to look for tools and opportunities outside the CHPS community. Invaluable support comes from a variety of places.

March is a transitional month by nature: we experience winter turning to spring, with the first day of spring on March 20 and the characteristic turn toward warmer temperatures (and back again, several times over). We introduce the District budget for the next school year. We wrap up the third marking period. Winter sports teams celebrate the end of their seasons with banquets as the spring sports season begins. It's a time when daylight stretches later and later into the evening, and we feel a new surge of energy as we embark on the last quarter of the school year.

The feeling of renewal that comes with spring is the perfect backdrop for noting the amazing resources available to us from outside of our schools. We've been able to seize opportunities and implement new programs, leading to growth and innovation. One great example of a new program made possible by an outside source is the first-ever Women in Engineering Day, which took place at Rosa International Middle School on March 23. Rosa International Middle School alumunus and current Rowan University engineering student Gaby Rochino, pictured above, gave a presentation in which she discussed how engineering connects to our everyday lives and interests. Ms. Rochino, who also owns the company Think Like a Girl, explained the myriad of engineering career paths and conducted a lively Q&A session. Rosa 8th grader Esther Levine also spoke about participating in the Attracting Women into Engineering \(AWE\) program at Rowan.
