

Summer Reading Tip #5
Video Transcript
Cherry Hill Public Schools

Hello Cherry Hill friends, this is Michelle Dowd, the Literacy Teacher Coach at Richard Stockton Elementary here with today's reading tip.

Good readers recognize the important elements of the story. These important elements include the main character, setting, plot, and theme. By recognizing these important elements, it helps you to remember and comprehend what the story is about.

So as you are reading, ask yourself questions such as, who is the main character in the story? Where does this story take place? What are some of the main events in the story? And what is the problem in the story and how does it get solved? What lesson does the character learn? What is the theme or the message in the story?

So remember, by recognizing and remembering these important elements it helps to improve your comprehension. Let's remember, you can find a friend in any story, so don't forget to take time to get lost in a book this summer.
